[“I took Smiling Monkey Yoga teacher training and started teaching kids yoga directly afterwards. Amy is an incredibly joyful person by nature and I feel that this is a huge part in finding a good teacher to emulate. She gave me all the tools and clarity I needed to confidently start holding my own classes. Helping children realize that they are perfect exactly how they are and providing them with the tools to center themselves when they feel off makes my heart sing. This is how we create peace on Earth. Thank you Amy for encouraging more people to share this practice of yoga to children! Love You!
